

Angie Johnson has been dedicated to municipal governance and community service for over two decades. Serving as Clerk Treasurer for the Town of Meeteetse, Wyoming, since 2003, she oversees administrative, financial, and strategic operations, including budget management, grant writing, infrastructure planning, and youth program administration. Her leadership has been pivotal in ensuring efficient town operations and fostering community development.

Beyond her municipal role, Angie contributes significantly to various organizations. As Secretary for the Meeteetse Fire District and Treasurer for multiple boards, she maintains meticulous financial and administrative records. Her expertise extends to recreation, serving as Swimming Pool Supervisor for the Meeteetse Recreation District and Certified Pool Operator since 2006.

Angie holds prestigious certifications, including IIMC's Master Municipal Clerk and multiple finance and leadership credentials. A passionate advocate for professional development, she has chaired and served on several IIMC committees, currently representing Region VIII-East as Director. Her contributions to the Wyoming Association of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers (WAMCAT) include serving as President, Vice President and Education Committee Chair.

A committed leader and community advocate, Angie brings extensive experience, strategic vision, and a dedication to advancing municipal clerkship on a global scale.
